

INDEPENDENT TELEVISION SERVICE, THE OAKLAND MUSEUM
OF CALIFORNIA & KQED EDUCATION NETWORK PRESENT:

“DOES YOUR VOTE COUNT IN CALIFORNIA?”

You are invited to a special launch event for VOTE DEMOCRACY!, ITVS's national campaign that encourages new and young voters to get involved in the democratic process.

NPR's Richard Gonzales will moderate a town hall discussion about voting in California and whether our electoral system fully represents California's interests and voters. What are the strengths and shortcomings of the way we vote? What are the alternatives to the Electoral College and are they viable? Will your vote in California matter—and be counted equally—this election year? Join us and find out!

Tuesday, March 18, 7:00 PM
Reception & Light Refreshments, 6:30 PM

Oakland Museum of California
1000 Oak Street@10th St, one block from the Lake Merritt BART station

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS:

LOIS VOSSEN

Series Producer, Independent Lens

PANEL DISCUSSION FEATURING:

DEREK CRESSMAN

National Assistant Director of Elections Reform, Common Cause

BARRY FADEM

President, National Popular Vote

STEVEN HILL

Director, Political Reform Program, New America Foundation

KIM ZETTER

Journalist, Wired News

MODERATED BY:

RICHARD GONZALES

Correspondent, National Public Radio

Admission is free, reservations are required.
RSVP by Monday, March 17th to rsvp@itvs.org

For more information about this event,
call 510-238-2200 or visit
pbs.org/independentlens/votedemocracy/

ADDITIONAL PARTNERS:

Americans for Informed Democracy, Campus Compact,
Common Cause, Declare Yourself, Democracia U.S.A.,
Demos, Idealist.org, VolunteerMatch

