

LESSON PLAN: INTERNATIONAL FORUM ON IRAN’S NUCLEAR PROGRAM

Student Handout Three: Policy Decision-making Chart

Directions: After reviewing the different countries’ positions and potential policy options, use the “Policy Making Chart” below to write your nation’s policy. In your group, discuss the benefits to be gained and possible consequences to be faced in implementing your policy. Time permitting you may do further research to support your position. Your group may request permission to discuss your ideas with another nation by following the diplomatic protocol in Handout One for addressing other countries. Though you want to be flexible and arrive at a workable solution try to support your country’s position when developing your policy. Be prepared to present and defend your policy proposal during the forum.

Policy Option	Reasons for and benefits of the policy	Reasons against and possible consequences of the policy	Group’s decision and reasons why