

Mayo's Old Time Clock.

Chicago Tribune (1860-1872); Nov 19, 1871;

ProQuest Historical Newspapers Chicago Tribune (1849 - 1986)

pg. 7

Mayo's Old Time Clock.

This old, reliable timepiece will be received from E. Howard & Co. the latter end of this week. We feel sure that all old patrons of the house and the public will be pleased to learn of its passing through the fire with only the pendulum disarranged, which is now repaired, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. J. B. Mayo & Co., of No. 468 State street, retain possession of it, and also have a splendid stock of jewelry, etc., on hand at low figures, and still retain Mr. Travis Mason in charge of our repairing department.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.