

Tiny is going on a Nature Tracker adventure to observe the night sky. She sees a constellation that reminds her of one of her favorite foods.

A constellation is a picture formed by stars in the night sky.

Connect the dots to find out what it is!

You can be a Nature Tracker, too! Go outside with your family to observe the moon and stars every night for a week. Draw a picture of the moon each night to show how it changes!

pbskids.org/dinosaurtrain