

The United States of America

Language Perceptions Exercise

Draw circles around those areas of the country where you think people speak the most correct English or the least correct English. Label the regions geographically (i.e. North, South, Midwest, etc.), and add any comments you would like to describe the region's speech.