

THE 2011 CONTEMPORARY SEASON

NOV 6 Page Eight

Bill Nighy (Love Actually) and Oscar winner Rachel Weisz (The Constant Gardener) head an all-star cast in a gripping modern drama written and directed by Sir David Hare (Oscar-nominated adapter of The Reader and The Hours). Touching on torture, corruption, betrayal, and the passing of the old guard of British spies, this political thriller also stars Ralph Fiennes (The Constant Gardener), Michael Gambon (Harry Potter), Judy Davis (My Brilliant Career), and Felicity Jones (Northanger Abbey). (120 minutes)

Watch online November 7 - December 6

NOV 13 The Song of Lunch

What could possibly go wrong when two ex-lovers meet for lunch at their favorite haunt from years before? Lots. Emma Thompson (Sense and Sensibility) and Alan Rickman (Harry Potter) take that risk in this funny, bittersweet drama, adapted from Christopher Reid's captivating narrative poem. (60 minutes)

Watch online November 14 - December 13

NOV 27 Framed (Encore Presentation)

An eccentric Welsh village learns that London's National Gallery is storing its entire art collection in a nearby mine during the museum's renovations—leading to curious encounters between the village locals and the gallery's urbane, lovelorn curator. Trevor Eve (David Copperfield) and Eve Myles (Little Dorrit) star in this gentle comedy, based on Frank Cottrell Boyce's best-selling novel. (90 minutes)

Watch online November 28 - December 27