

Directions: As you watch the video, fill in the blanks:

Pennsylvania's wealthiest districts spend more than _____ more money per student than the state's poorest districts.

In 1991, the state of Pennsylvania began to _____ its share of education spending every year, leaving the difference up to _____.

Donna Cooper says that in order for schools to spend their money the right way, funds should go to ensuring _____, _____ and _____.

The "Hold-Harmless" rule: _____

The "Fair Funding Formula":

A shortcoming of the Fair Funding Formula is that it
